Gallery: Maundy Service 2009

On Thursday 9 April 2009, the Queen carried out the Royal Maundy Service at St Edmundsbury Cathedral, Bury St Edmunds. Picture by Archant Suffolk. HMQ met the public after the service, but before we show you more pictures of the day itself...

Firstofall it was a perfect day for me and my friends, where it was the TV there also they did an interview with us . Amazing ! The queen and the Prince they are a lovely cuppol, It was houner for us to see them . Bury St edmunds, thanks for that.

I had a great day with my granddaughters Isobel and robyn. We waited ages to see the Queen and at last we saw her leaving in the car. If only our family friend, your John Ottley, could have told us where the best view would be, we would have had a great view! We hope the Queen comes again. From Shirley

It was a great pleaser to see the queen because i had never seen the queen before i didn` t have a great view but hopefully i will see her again i like turquoise so the queen looked really pretty from isobel ps it was a great day.

I thought that The Queen looked really pretty and it is an awful shame that she may not be coming to bury again. I had a great day and i am looking foward to another.yours sinciperly robyn.

A day of smiles. From the first police who directed and searched us to Michael Hempel and the Lord High Almoner who were organising everything with smiles on their faces as they went about the business of the final arrangements. And then the Queen with a big smile and Prince Philip read so well. The recipients, though nervous and often a bit emotional, looking so proud with their bags of Maundy money. We had a delicious lunch in the Athenaeum and came away with smiles and memories of a wonderful day.It was also good to meet Peter of Radio Suffolk too at lunch, nice to have a face to the name!

Maggie Barker

Thank you for the fabulous photos (numbers 1 and 33) of me and my friends meeting The Queen.

Sarah Denniston

It was an honour to speak with the Queen and I sent her love from Australia, as my mum actively campaigns for the Australians for Constitutional Monarchy party! It was a happy day for all the people of Bury St Edmunds and I very much enjoyed myself!
